

W. P. WALTON.

In an interview, Gov. Cleveland outlined the policy of his administration, in these main words: "It will be my aim, and the aim of all associated with me in the conduct of affairs at Washington, to give the people of the United States safe economical and conservative government. The fact that so many business men and manufacturers and workmen voted with the democratic party this election shows they are not afraid of a change of administration. The democratic party, in its Chicago platform meant what it said, and said what it means, and we'll carry the provisions of that platform which relate to the business interests of the country into effect. The most important thing is to restore confidence and a determination to forget partisan heat and excitement, and devote our lives to things which tend to the substantial welfare of the country and all of its people. In this work every man should feel he has a part to perform."

THE Louisville Times can give good advice, but like most advisers does not practice its precepts. It says that editors should not quarrel through the columns of their papers at the expense of their readers, when no longer than last week it called our esteemed friend of the Danville Tribune a "liar and a scoundrel." Advice, though good, had or indifferent would have no effect upon us at present for "the pains of hell seem to have got hold upon us" and the "torments of the damned been visited upon us" for like Job, we suffer with boils, yea sore boils. Four in ten days are enough to sour the disposition of a saint and we do not profess any of the attributes of one. Usually as mild a mannered man as ever lived, we are for the nonce transformed into a veritable demon and like a roaring lion roareth about for something to destroy or devour. Selah.

DR. Woods, of the Capital, has intercepted the following letter from Black Jack to Slippery Jim: DEAR JIM:—If I ain't in a fix I'll be damned. I see me and you was beat as soon as I taken a good look at old Burchard's durned foolery, but I want a lookin' for the Elysinian Legislature to be gittin ready to make a ass of itself. I ain't no hopes of the country nobow, and so I don't care a darn noway. I would sign myself yours, but I ain't no body and ain't a carin a darn if I ain't. JOHN A. LOGAN.

A ST. LOUIS paper says: "Blaine is beaten, but he lives to preach the doctrine of eternal hate. What would the world think if Cleveland had been defeated and had made Blaine's incendiary speech. The bloody shirt has done much mischief in its day and may do more, but it atones for a multitude of sins, past and future, by furnishing Blaine with an appropriate coffin drain. The country may not have gotten rid of it, but, thank heaven, the country has gotten rid of him."

THE Louisville Democrat moves to substitute the name of James G. Blaine in our recent article charging that the editor of the Commercial Gazette is the meanest and most disloyal liar on the face of the earth. We shall urge no objection, in fact we heartily concur in the amendment. We hadn't read Blaine's cowardly attack on the South at the time it was written.

THE Virginia people exercise much more forbearance in allowing the Richmond Whig to exist, than either Christianity or politics demands. That vile sheet not only endorses Blaine's recent speech, but goes even further in its dirty abuse of the South. A coat of tar and feathers should be applied to the miserable whelp who could lie thus about his own section.

—At Masonheimer's Restaurant, opposite the Court House, Danville, Ky., meals are served at all hours. Game always on hand and in its season, Oysters, fresh fish, and similar delicacies served in all styles and on short notice. Look out for the sign "Woodbine Restaurant" and call when you are hungry. F. W. Masonheimer & Co., Danville, Ky.

—Thursday night last at Junction City Geo. Phillips and George Rowsey became involved in a dispute and stepped out of the house they were in to fight it out, when Phillips made a lunge at Rowsey with a knife striking him near the temple, the cut extending down and through the entire side of his face to his mouth. Phillips then ran away in the darkness and has not been arrested. Rowsey is a nephew of the George Rowsey assassinated near Parkville several weeks ago.

—Last Thursday night Mr. French, keeper of the work house, discovered a fire in the middle stone cell in which a colored man named Jim Russell was confined. Rushing to the door, he found the wooden bunk and straw mattress on which the prisoner slept in a blaze and the prisoner looking on complacently. In the cell was a quantity of dynamite used by Mr. French for blasting rock with which to keep his captives employed in their geological studies. If this had exploded there would have been no work house nor any Jim Russell at this writing, but fortunately the dynamite was removed and the fire put out in time to avert the threatened calamity. Mr. French thinks Jim set the bed on fire.

—Mrs. Henry C. Bright, (formerly Miss Whitley) of Stanford is visiting relatives in this county. W. M. Hughes, formerly of Lincoln county, has gone to Montgomery, Ala., with the expectation of making that city his home. A little child of Mr. Wm. Vassar, of Junction City, that has been quite ill with diphtheria is now much better. Mr. Frank Glicher who has for a long time been suffering from a painful affection of the neck and throat placed himself under the care of a magnetic "doctress" a few weeks ago and says he has experienced greater relief than he thought possible through any human agency. He feels confident of being entirely cured. The name of the "doctress" Mrs. Grant, is a plain unpretending woman who has no medical education and who has no explanation to offer for the wonderful power she seems to have.

—For several days past rumors have been afloat in regard to grave irregularities charged to have been committed by Harry Wishard of this place. The young man left here last Monday and soon after his departure it was ascertained that the evening before he had given Mr. Thorell, of the Clemens House a check on the Farmer's National Bank for $5 when he had no money to his credit in that institution. A little later it was discovered that he had obtained $182 on a check presented at the Central National Bank, that Mrs. Fannie Knox's name was signed to the check and that she pronounced the check a forgery. Soon after it came to light that he had sold a note for $185 to which Mr. C. H. Talbot's name was attached, to Mr. Eugene Lee. The signature to this note proved to be a forgery. Wishard for some time had been agent for D. H. Baldwin & Co., a piano firm, having branches in both Louisville and Cincinnati and as such had sold a piano to Louis Faulconer, a colored man of this place. A few days before his departure he borrowed the piano from Louis saying he wished to use it at a musical entertainment and would return it shortly. This piano he sold to Prof. Grimme, of Bell Seminary and taking his note for $175 in payment, discounted it to Mr. Thomas McRoberts. In the midst of these discoveries Mr. Updyke, representing Baldwin & Co., came here and began to look into what the agent had been doing for the house in this locality. The investigation showed that the firm was minus between $1,100 and $1,200 for pianos furnished and disposed of by Wishard. Rumors are afloat that he obtained possession of the pianos by fraud, but nothing definite could be learned up to this time as to the precise method of the fraud, if there was any in this regard. A rumor also unauthenticated was afloat Sunday and to-day (Monday) that Wishard had been arrested at Chicago. Great sympathy is felt and expressed for the young man's family on account of his astonishing conduct. His father is a respected minister of the Presbyterian church, while his mother and sisters are among the worthiest people of the town. Since writing the above your correspondent has learned that after some delay the Thorell check was paid by the bank at which it was presented.

MT. VERNON DEPARTMENT.

Managed by Jno. B. Fish.

—Thanksgiving day will be observed by the turkeys.

—Corn is worth 90 cents per bushel delivered at this place.

—To-day is County Court day, but it seems more like Sunday from the number of people in town.

—Jack Adams, Jr., was taken dangerously ill last Thursday night, but is considerably improved to-day.

—Some of our people have been having "hog killing" times, consequently backbones and spare ribs are plentiful.

—A goodly number of walnut logs are being hauled to the railroad switch at this place, preparatory to being shipped to the East.

—The works at the Livingston stone quarry will close out about the 15th of December. It is said that about all the available stone has been quarried.

—The wind last Saturday night blew down a great deal of fodder and fencing. Last night was the coldest of the winter. Ice formed about one inch thick in some places.

—There are 12 steam saw mills located along the line of the Kentucky Central railroad in this county and they are running all the time, cutting from 10,000 to 20,000 feet per day; at this rate timber will soon become very scarce.

—Interest in the Sunday school at this place seems to be on the decrease. Not one half of the children attend of late and it is seldom if ever any of the parents are out. At the rate the school has been going for the last few Sundays it will have to close soon for want of attendance.

—About 60 persons went from this place to Crab Orchard to the Cleveland and Hendricks celebration. From the appearance they made on the street they must have had a jolly good time. This is a local option town and the boys had been doing without so long that even the odor of the "spirits" made them "tipsey."

—Mr. A. W. Peterson is here in the interest of the Louisville Commercial, which he says will shortly come out as a full-blooded republican paper again. Mr. G. H. Albright, ex-deputy sheriff of this county has removed to Barboursville where he will open up a drug store. We hope he will have abundant success in his new calling.

One Bottle Instead of a Dozen.

"And it took only one bottle to do it," said a gentleman, speaking of Parker's Hair Balsam. I had a run of fever and when I got well of that my hair began to fall out so fast as to alarm me. I really didn't know what to do until one day a friend said, 'Try Parker's Hair Balsam.' What surprised me was the fact that one bottle was enough. I expected to use a dozen." Clean, highly perfumed, not oily, not a dye. Restores original color.

The Buell stock is tanned by the old-fashioned long time cold liquor process, thereby producing soft and pleasant wearing material. Any method that will tan stock in ten to thirty days in order to make it cheap will unavoidably destroy its life, and when the oil used in dressing evaporates the leather becomes hard and brittle. A single thought should convince you that notwithstanding the difference in price, you can better afford to buy BUELL'S BOOTS AND SHOES.
